While we’ve already established that I am way too particular about coffee in the world of this newsletter, recently the topic of where to go for a cup on the go came up. Rutgers and the surrounding area have tons of places for good coffee each with its own benefits and drawbacks. Personally, I feel that Penstock in Highland Park has the best cup on the banks, but, Hidden Grounds also has great stuff closer to home. When caffeine is more important than taste (i.e. during this past midterm season), the 3 pm cup of Dunkin’s original roast from the Douglas Student Center is a transcendent experience (bonus points for also getting a pumpkin donut).

Make sure you’re awake for some of these upcoming events. Help remedy that COVID-19 travel bug by stopping by the upcoming Virtual Happening @35 event. Fulfill colloquium requirements early in the semester and watch an incredible movie at the next SASHP Movie Night featuring “Crash.” Those in the Peer Mentor Program can take an evening to decompress at the upcoming Paint & Sweets event. Get in the spirit by sending your costume to the SASHP Halloween Costume Contest. Start prepping for wave two of midterms NOW by checking out the Study Space Search Tool.
