Something about the abrupt transitions between holiday seasons has always felt fake to me. For example, today I walked into Trader Joe's and they were pushing their new winter sangria flavored seltzer water along with a whole array of winter products. Then, I went to Walmart right after for more groceries and heard sleigh bells before one of their intercom advertisements immediately followed by "White Christmas." Come December this would all make sense, but it's the middle of fall. Either way, I guess the lesson here is that things move fast, so try your best to move with it instead of getting caught up in rapid transitions.

Keep things moving at some of these upcoming events. Plan your college journey out at the upcoming Passport to Student Success Event. On the topic of future-proofing, speak with seasoned alumni in the poli sci field at the upcoming Eagleton Institute of Politics Alumni Panel. Satisfy the COVID travel-bug and potentially start on your honors capstone at the Study Abroad Information Session.

Passport to Student Success
The Passport to Student Success Workshop is open to all SASHP students and will cover course registration, majors, minors, and departments at Rutgers. This workshop will take place on Fri, Nov 20 at 2pm. It's hosted by the SASHP Peer Mentor Program. I'm including it this early because - even if it's sometimes painful to do, this stuff is important to think about early. The zoom link is here.

Eagleton Institute of Politics Alumni Panel
Learn about career paths, current positions, and general advice within the poli sci major at Eagleton's Alumni Panel. Guests include Rick Kessler, Lydia Louis, Ken Shatzkes, Grace Strom Power, and Bishar Jenkins, Jr. - all Eagleton alumni working notable roles in our country's political system. This event takes place on Wed, Nov 10 at 6:30pm via Zoom and is highly recommended for students looking to explore their career options. Register here.

Study Abroad Information Session
Let's face it, Covid-19 gave everybody a travel bug that refuses to go away. Satisfy your desire to travel AND your honors capstone (assuming you select the global option) by studying abroad. Where can you learn about all of the study abroad opportunities that Rutgers offers? Stop by the Study Abroad Information Session, taking place Fri, Nov 19 at 12pm ET, to answer all of your questions and more. Join the Zoom call here.
