

Research Methods

RUTGERS SASHP NEWSLETTER

Wednesday, February 16, 2022

Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

Because of the upcoming Capstone Q&A and Scholarly Report workshop, in addition to my own honors thesis research, it only makes sense to dedicate this intro to such a major aspect of academia. Whether you are working on your own honors capstone project, doing research for Aresty, working on projects with your professors, or doing research for another external scholarship, having your name on something is a major perk of going to a large university like Rutgers. So, if you're working on something keep going, and if not, take some time to look into the opportunities that your department offers.

Hone your research skills by looking into some of these events/announcements. Learn about the Gardner Fellowship at the upcoming Happening @35 Event. Seniors looking for some advice on their capstone reports should attend the Scholarly Report Workshop. Sophomores and juniors looking to start the brainstorming process on their own capstones should stop by the upcoming Honors Capstone Q&A. Hear from activist and scholar, Dr. Angela Davis at the upcoming talk: Redefining Justice and Freedom for Everyone.

Warm Regards,
Justin Confalone
Your newsletter editor

In this Newsletter:

- *Happening @35 Event
- *Scholarly Report Workshop
- *Honors Capstone Q&A
- *Redefining Justice and Freedom for Everyone

SASHP Newsletter

Events/Announcements

Happening @35

Virtually stop by 35 College Ave's upcoming Virtual Happening @35 info session about the Gardner Fellowship Program. The yearlong Gardner program takes 12-15 SAS juniors under its wing and focuses on major global issues, develops strong leadership skills, and takes a prominent stance in addressing these issues in the coming decades. This event takes place next Thu, Feb 24 at 4 pm EST via Zoom. Join here.

Scholarly Report Workshop

I know, trust me: honors capstone is always a stressful thing to hear, but let me take just 20 seconds of your time. Seniors pursuing options C, D, E, or G of the honors capstone should stop by the SASHP Scholarly Report Workshop. This event will allow students to review sample reports and receive some feedback on their progress. Honestly, this might ease the capstone burden, so stop by on Mon, Feb 28 at 2 pm EST. Join here.

Honors Capstone Q&A

Wait! Don't run away. For those in their sophomore or junior year, the honors capstone is something that cannot be put off. This session will cover everything soon-to-be capstone aficionados need to know - from courses required, to possible capstone options, to typical timelines. This Q&A session will feature a student-led panel and chats with honors advising deans. The Q&A takes place Fri, Mar 4 at 11 am EST via Zoom. Join here.

Redefining Justice and Freedom for Everyone

Activist and scholar Dr. Angela Davis is coming to Rutgers to present: Redefining Justice and Freedom for Everyone! As Distinguished Professor Emerita of History of Consciousness and of Feminist Studies at University of California Santa Cruz Davis is sure to deliver an incredible presentation. This event takes place Fri, Mar 4 at 4:30 pm EST and requires pre-registration by next Fri, Feb 25. Register here.

Follow Us!

@RutgersSASHP

@RUSASHP

rutgershonorsblog.
wordpress.com

SAS Honors

@RU_SASHP

SASHP NEWSLETTER • SASHP.NL@GMAIL.COM