

Ka-blam. Pow.

RUTGERS SASHP NEWSLETTER

Monday, February 11, 2018

Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

The night is darkest before the dawn, but for some the night never ends. This applies especially to Scarlet Knights, who work hard in classes, clubs, and other programs, beating assignments and taking names. We take our fears and we own them, making them ours, wearing them proudly as we stalk across the street. We are the defenders of the Honors Program and we will see justice. Here are some ways you can do so this week.

Need help solving the mystery of your future? This Friday you could detect what your Honors Capstone could be at our Junior Academic Meeting and narrow down suspects with the Honors Peer Mentor Aresty/Research Workshop. Work on maintaining your secret identity while visiting the Whitney Museum, going to an Artists' Collective event, or seeing the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. Do your background research by looking at our Senior Spotlights and get some legwork in at the SASHP Winter Formal this Saturday (get tickets ASAP!). Find out how Aarohi Apte spent her winter break battling social ills on an Alternative Break Trip on the SASHP Blog.

In the meantime, keep on watching the Knight, no matter how hard. Remember that we fall to get back up again. Every hero needs not only a Robin, but a Nightwing. And, if the going gets tough, the night too black, make the difficult choice. People often take the easy way. It is by making the difficult decisions that you can be more than a person, become a symbol, a beacon of hope for all to see.

Dawn is coming,
Kim Peterman
Student Director of Honors Media

In this Newsletter

Honors Events p. 2-3

Let's JAM

Aresty/Research Workshop

Trip to the Whitney Museum

Artists' Collective Events

New Jersey Symphony

Orchestra

Honors News p. 4

Senior Spotlights

Time is running out: SASHP
Winter Formal

Learn to be Batman

Learn self-defense, adventure through unknown terrain, and dance like you belong in the world of a billionaire with classes at Rutgers Recreation.

Apply to be H.I.P.ster!

Take over the Honors Instagram at
<https://goo.gl/forms/oOV0D0kgkpoiwFVF2>

RUTGERS
School of Arts and Sciences
Honors Program

SASHP Newsletter

Honors Events

Let's JAM!

Are you a junior, sophomore, or forward-thinking freshman with questions about how to fulfill your SAS Capstone Honors requirement? Then head to the Junior Academic Meeting this Friday, Feb. 16 at 2-3PM in Tillet Hall Room 246 (Livingston Campus). There will be a review of the Honors requirements, a thesis starter packet, and panel of students currently working on their capstones to clear up any of your questions about the process and set you on the path to Honors Scholar.

Aresty/Research Workshop

If you want to get involved in research or are worried about an Aresty application, we've got the help you need. Learn more about finding research, getting funding, nailing your interview, and more from our Honors Peer Mentors. Get your answers this Friday, Feb. 16 at 3-4 PM in the Busch Student Center, Room 174.

SASHP Newsletter

Honors Events

Trip to the Whitney Museum

Join Dean Nazario and the SASHP for a trip to the Whitney Museum this Sunday, Feb. 18. Please complete the form linked here to register for the trip. The bus will depart from the College Avenue Student Center at 12 noon and return around 6 pm. RSVP here and bring $5 to 35 College Avenue by 2/14/18 to reserve your seat.

Artists' Collective Events

Join the Artists' Collective for their upcoming events. Tonight they are showing the Noir film White Heat, on Friday is a salon, and next week is a writing workshop! Find out more on Facebook: search SASHP's Artists' Collective.

New Jersey Symphony Orchestra

NJSO College Night on Feb 24 at State Theatre in New Brunswick gives an exclusive pass to students at the orchestra for an evening of music and fun, riveting performances and a post-concert party with live entertainment. Your ticket is free with SASHP and comes with access to an all-student party with light refreshments and live entertainment after the concert. Save your seat at <https://goo.gl/forms/QWu5bBmMi8j2GPyo2>

SASHP Newsletter Honors News

Senior Spotlight

Learn about a true SASHP leader in last week's Senior Spotlight on Alexander Lopez-Perez. You can find it by going to the SASHP Blog or the SASHP Facebook page. If YOU are a senior who would like to be featured or want to be the speaker at the Senior Brunch, go check your email from Dean Davis today!

Time is running out.

Go undercover, investigate your leads, and find that dame or detective that's so wrong they're right for you at our third annual Winter Formal on Saturday, Feb. 17 at The Heldrich at 6:30-10:30PM. Time is running out! And you never know which moment will be the one you regret the most. So don't miss any! Learn more and purchase tickets at <https://www.tix.com/Event.aspx?EventCode=1054492>

Feelin' dapper?

NIGHT OF NOIR

SAS Honors Program
Winter Formal Dinner Dance
February 17, 2018 | 6:30 - 10:30 p.m.
The Heldrich | New Brunswick, NJ

