Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

At my Tuesday night book club, new members always ask the same question: “How do you guys find time to read?” The answer? It’s easy. Reading is my favorite hobby. It makes me happy, so I ensure that I do it. Hobbies are notorious for getting lost under the strain of coursework, but it’s important to fit the things you love into your busy schedule.

Find the tools to help your hobbies grow at the Rutgers Makerspace. Spend time with fellow honors students at the Brett Hall movie night. Indulge your artistic interest at the Artists Collective Salon. Show off your spirit before the big game by designing DIY Game Day T-Shirts. Stay on top of your work by attending you Class Academic Meeting. Show us your eye for design by entering the SASHP Logo Design Contest. Demonstrate your photography skills by entering the Rutgers Global Photo Contest. Share your college experience by submitting a Senior Spotlight.

If stress is getting to you, take a moment and do one thing that you enjoy. Here at SASHP, we understand that hobbies are more than just a way to pass time - they keep us happy, healthy, and innovative.

With warmest regards,

Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media

Campus Events

Makerspace
The newest Rutgers Makerspace is now open to all Rutgers students during the academic year. Machinery includes laser cutters, sewing machines, 3D printers, and more. The possibilities for creative ideas are endless! Open on weekdays, 1 to 5 PM at room N104 of the Honors College. There will also be an open house and training at the Livingston Campus Makerspace on October 18, 10 to 11:30 AM.

Brett Hall Movie Night: Farmingville
Join your fellow honors students for a movie night at Brett Hall. This week's feature flick will be Farmingville, which explores the mismanaged national policies that led to fear, racism and violence following the hate-based attempted murder of two Mexican day laborers. Oct 18, 6 to 8 PM at Brett Hall, College Ave Campus. Counts as an outside event for Honors Colloquium.
Artists Collective Salon
Take this opportunity to get together, talk about art, and do arts and crafts at the Artists Collective Salon. Modeled after Parisian salons, these are venues for artists (of any level of skill) to gather and work on projects together. Oct 19, 3 PM at 35 College Ave Parlor, College Ave Campus.

DIY Game Day T-Shirts
Are you going to the football game this weekend? Show off your school spirit by stopping by Brett to make a game day t-shirt! Oct 17, 8:30 to 10 PM at Brett Hall SLounge, College Ave Campus.

Class Academic Meetings
Save the date for your Honors Program class meetings. Get info about staying on track with SASHP requirements and resources, plus hear from campus partners.
Sophomores: Oct 19, 12 to 1:30 PM at Tillet Hall rm 246, Livingston Campus.
Juniors: Nov 16, 1 to 2:30 PM at the Academic Building rm 1180, College Ave Campus.
Seniors: Nov 9, 12 to 1:30 PM at the Academic Building rm 1180, College Ave Campus.
Of course, there will be food and giveaways!
