Spring Cleaning

Monday, March 25, 2019

Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

Welcome back! I hope you enjoyed your break and a few days of sunshine. The fresh air and sunlight always fill me with a productive energy. And what do I do with it? I clean. I open a window, reorganize my clothing, and give my dishes and countertops a good scrub. My room definitely gets messy, and I find that clearing my environment clears my head as well. And once I put everything back in its place, I always find a lost sock or a pair of headphones that went missing weeks beforehand. If you’re feeling restless, put on your favorite music and give spring cleaning a try. You never know what you might find.

Here are some events coming up. Juniors: make sure to submit your Capstone Form online by April 12th. Learn a new skill at the RCSA self-defense workshop. Join the Artists Collective for an arts and writing internship panel, comics making workshop or general salon. Catch a flick with fellow SASHP students at the SASHP movie night! Hear a talk by pulitzer-prize winning poet Natasha Trethewey at the next installment of Writer’s House. Explore a new art exhibit by joining the SASHP on a bus trip to The Museum of the City of New York. Drop in for donuts and advising with Dean Kim-Lee. Become a part of the SASHP Media Team leadership by applying for the Blog Editor position. Share your SASHP wisdom with a first-year student by applying to be a Peer Mentor. Spend a day in your chosen field by applying to the Summer Shadow Experience Program. Gain valuable research experience by applying to become a Research Assistant at the Youth Anxiety and Depression Clinic.

From all of us here at the SASHP, welcome back!

With warmest regards,

Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media
