

Board Game Night!

RUTGERS SASHP NEWSLETTER

Monday, April 8, 2019

Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

This semester, Wednesdays have become my favorite day of the week. I have a long day of back-to-back classes, including my honors seminar and a computer coding class. At the end of the day, I scramble to catch an F-bus to head back to my home campus. But I don't go straight home. My friends hold a board game night every Wednesday. After a tiresome and sometimes stressful day of classes, I always find the energy to join them for a round of Ticket to Ride or Codenames. I constantly learn new games and figure out how to get better at the ones I already know. Board game night allows me to de-stress and connect with people in a way I typically don't, whether we play a complex game or even a simple round of cards.

Here are some fun events coming up. Hear bestselling author Alexander Chee speak at the next installment of Writers at Rutgers. Join the Peer Leader in McCormick for Scheduling & Succulents! Learn about the SASHP Global Experience trip to the Yucatán by joining students for the Yucatán Photography Exhibit. Attend the performance of Kol Halayla, Rutgers' premier Jewish a cappella group. Check out scholarly research conducted by your peers at the Aresty Research Symposium. Seniors: share your reflections by auditioning to be the Senior Speaker. Take on a leadership role by organizing TEDxRutgers. Submit research to The Mental Note, the first ever journal of undergraduate research in Cognitive Science.

From all of us here at the SASHP, enjoy the week!

With warmest regards,
Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media
