Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

Working' nine to five, what a way to make a living! Okay, I know that college kids don't typically have classes from nine to five. Sometimes I wish we did, because I dread my class that runs until nine at night. But now that we've settled into a routine, we're all working hard and hustling toward the weekend! Now is a great time to build yourself a routine, evaluate your work habits, and create yourself a plan for how to do well this semester.

Here are some fun events this week to break up your routine! Drop by Chang Library for a Harry Potter Read-A-Thon. Economics and RBS students: join esteemed alumni from Toorak Capital Partners and BlackRock for an Honors Alumni Night. Join the Artists Collective for a Zine-Making Workshop or their salon. Juniors and seniors: learn about internships and job openings at the Deloitte Recruitment Event! Reserve tickets for the NJ Film Festival. Learn about the 5-Year Teacher Education Program at their upcoming Info Session. Show your school spirit by joining the SASHP for a DIY Game-Day T-Shirt! Seniors: share your wisdom, experiences, and reflections by filling out a Senior Spotlight. Show off the life of an honors student by applying to be a HIPster! Do you enjoy writing? Now's your chance to Blog for the SASHP!

From all of us at the SASHP, enjoy the day!

With warmest regards,
Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media
