Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

As I get older, I’ve noticed that history has a funny way of repeating itself. Sometimes I find myself making the same mistakes again and again, like drinking a cup of coffee right after brushing my teeth. But sometimes I notice a pattern that I associate with success, such as making a schedule for completing midterm projects that are all due the same week. I’ve been at Rutgers long enough to know what works for me and what doesn’t. Of course, I still make a few mistakes that sometimes leave me distressed. But I try to learn from them, move on, and focus on my successes.

Here are some fun events coming up. Questions about advising? Visit your honors advising dean or stop by drop-in advising with Dean Ackerman. Join the summer reading selection committee to help pick our next summer read! Do you have an idea or research you want to share? Sign up for TEDxRutgers Speechcraft. Join the Peer Mentors for a midterm survival week. Watch an award-winning film at our movie night in McCormick Hall. Plan ahead by attending the Passport to Student Success, hosted by the Peer Mentors. Get ready for the game this weekend by making DIY Gameday Tees. Check out the SASHP Peer Mentor Instagram for a chance to win some swag! Do you enjoy writing? Now's your chance to blog for the SASHP! Join a WITI Committee to gain some practical leadership skills,

From all of us at the SASHP, enjoy the day!

With warmest regards,

Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media
Drop-In Advising with Dean Ackerman

Questions about advising? Dean Ackerman has drop-in hours! Stop by for a high-five, a snack, and answers to all your advising questions. Oct 4, 3 - 5:30 PM in Brett Hall Quiet Lounge, College Ave Campus.

Summer Reading Selection Committee

Do you love to read and share your thoughts about what you read? Do you fondly remember your SASHP summer reading? Help select the 2020 summer reading book for next year’s incoming students! Snacks will be served! Questions or book recs? Send them to kathy.sadowsky@rutgers.edu. Oct 4, 2 PM at 35 College Ave Parlor (SASHP Main Office), College Ave Campus.

TEDxRutgers Speechcraft

Speechcraft is a unique competition that puts students on the path to becoming a TEDx speaker. It is a platform for students to share ideas, experiences, and research with the greater Rutgers community. Two student speakers will be chosen to give full-length talks at the TEDxRutgers conference next semester! Apply at tedxrutgers.com/speechcraftapply. Deadline to apply is Oct 5th. The event is Oct 22, 7-9 PM at the Livingston Student Center Coffeehouse.
Midterm Survival Week

I hate to admit it, but midterms are approaching. The SASHP Peer Mentors are hosting a week to help you survive! They’re here to keep you happy and studying during midterms! Stop by for coffee, tea, snacks, encouragement and advice. Open to all SASHP students. Oct 7: Brett Hall Lounge, Oct 8: Livi North Tower 8th Floor Lounge, Oct 9: McCormick Lounge, 8–10 PM.

Movie Night: Lion

Join your fellow honors students for a movie night! The feature flick will be Lion, starring Dev Patel. Based on the memoir A Long Journey Home, the film tells the story of a boy from India who gets lost in Calcutta and is adopted by an Australian couple. 25-years later, he begins the long search for his birth mother. Pizza will be served. Oct 10, 7 PM in McCormick Lounge, Busch Campus. *Counts as an Honors Colloquium outside event.

Passport to Student Success

Plan ahead! At the Passport to Student Success, hosted by the Honors Peer Mentor Program, you can speak with representatives from the Aresty Research Center, Graduate School of Education, Rutgers Global (Study Abroad), and more. Stop in to speak with peer mentors about different SAS majors and minors and receive helpful tips. Oct 18, 2 - 3:30 PM at the Livingston Student Center Gathering Lounge, Livingston Campus. *Counts as an Honors Colloquium outside event.
