Happy Monday, everyone! After laboring over an essay on Marx for much of the week, I gave myself some time to watch the new(ish) Netflix documentary The Social Dilemma this past weekend. The (ironically Marxist) documentary talks about the rapid wave of social media we’ve seen in the past 10 years and how it’s at the point where the effects run way deeper than a simple case of FOMO. While I’m not here to lecture about the evils of algorithms or anything, I would encourage everyone to put the phone down every once in a while.

Now that I’ve got your attention, here are some awesome events coming up. Those pursuing a medical career can learn from some of the best at our Honors Alumni Panel. Tell the SASHP community about an awesome professional experience you had recently at the upcoming resource fair. Improve your nonfiction writing skills (in a time that has a lot of material) with the Artists Collective’s Writing 101 event. Join WITI and make some connections with major brands at their week-long Women Empowerment Fair. Learn more about your faculty mentor at the SASHP Faculty Mentor Program Gathering.

Hope everyone has an awesome week!

Warm Regards,
Justin Confalone
Your newsletter editor
Writing 101 with the Artists Collective

Interested in the vast and informative world of nonfiction? Those looking to refine their craft can join the Artists’ Collective’s Annie Liang this Thurs, Oct 8 at 7pm EST via Zoom. The event will provide tips and tricks on the process of turning reality into presentable reading. Register here.

Honors Alumni Panel: Medical

Join Rutgers alumni Dr. James Cleary, assistant professor of Medicine at Harvard; Dr. Shabbar F. Danish, chief neurosurgeon at Rutgers Cancer Institute; Dr. Sonia Garcia Laumbach, Family Medicine practitioner; and Dr. Ram Mani, assistant professor of Neurology at RWJ Medical School for a panel on the medical field. The panel is on Mon, Oct 19 at 4pm EST. This is an incredible opportunity and I've been told spots fill up very quickly... register here.

Internship & Professional Development Workshop

The peer mentor program is looking for panelists to speak during an event they are organizing called the Internship & Professional Development Workshop. Whether it’s completing an EMT course, conducting research at a non-Rutgers university/organization, or participating in an internship, the HP wants to give the spotlight to SAS Honors students who are participating in amazing non-Rutgers opportunities during the academic semester, winter, and summer break. If you’ve been involved in something similar and want to share your story, sign up to be a panelist here. The deadline to apply is Thurs, Oct 8.
Events

Newly admitted honors students will have a chance to get to know their assigned faculty mentors next Fri, Oct 9 at 3 - 4:15 pm EST. Beyond interacting with their own mentor, they will also have the opportunity to meet other mentors and fellow SASHP students at this informal get together. While no RSVP is required, students in the faculty mentor program will receive an email containing Zoom information for the event.

Rutgers Women Empowerment Fair

Join the Women in Information Technology and Informatics for their week long Women Empowerment Fair. Running from Oct 5 - Oct 9th, the fair has representatives from Deloitte, Google, iCIMS, Capital One, Bloomberg, and Verizon. Those interested in pursuing careers in any of these companies can register here.

Faculty Mentor Program Gathering

For a full list of opportunities, click here.

Follow Us!

@RutgersSASHP  @RUSASHP  rutgershonorsblog.wordpress.com  SAS Honors  @RU_SASHP